

Chef George Migliero Bio

George Migliero has served in the capacity of Wakonda Club's Executive Chef since 1995. George is originally from the Boston, Massachusetts area where he graduated from Newbury College's culinary program.

George began his professional career in San Diego, California at the Hotel Intercontinental where he trained until having the opportunity to personally train under Chef de cuisine Andre Chovin in the Julien Room at the Le Meridian Hotel back in Boston. Chef de cuisine Chovin's training lineage includes chefs Paul Bocuse, Roger Verge, Paul Haeberlin and Mark Haeberlin, who are all restaurateurs at Michelin Star rated establishments.

After rising to the rank of Sous Chef at the Le Meridien, George relocated to the Des Moines area to assist with the opening of Glen Oaks Country Club in 1994. In 2004, Chef George was selected to serve as a member of the culinary team at the 2004 Rider Cup at Oakland Hills Country Club in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan .

